

WEEK 17 QB STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR PLAYERS ON LESS THAN 70% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

1

TREVOR LAWRENCE (JAX) @ IND

Coming off a historic two-game stretch, he has thrown over 225 yards and multiple touchdowns in five straight games. He's also had at least 20 rushing yards in four of those games and seven rushing touchdowns this season. Facing an IND defense that's in the bottom three in passing yards allowed per game, this is a better matchup than what their current rankings are, since it's a different team with Philip Rivers. Despite it being a divisional matchup, Lawrence is one of my top streaming options this week.

SAM DARNOLD (SEA) @ CAR

Over the last few weeks, Darnold has fluctuated between games of throwing multiple touchdowns and none. He's had double-digit rushing yards in two of his last eight games and thrown under 250 yards in four of his games. Facing a CAR defense that's given up at least 20 points in its last five games, it's not a great matchup, but with so many injuries, I would rather stream a starting QB with a worse matchup than a 3rd-string backup against a good one. One of my preferred top-15 streaming options.

TYLER SHOUGH (NO) @ TEN

Coming off one of his best games of the season, he has thrown over 250 yards and a touchdown in back-to-back games. While he hasn't been a top-ten QB, he's been hovering around the top-12 over the last four games. With at least 30 rushing yards in two of the last three games, his rushing ability is a nice bonus. Facing a TEN defense that's been better recently, they are a bottom-ten defense in points allowed per game. While he lacks the top ten upside, he's still one of the better streaming options available.

CAM WARD (TEN) VS NO

If Mariota misses Thursday's game, Cam Ward is my last-resort streaming option instead of Geno Smith. Ward has thrown multiple touchdowns in three straight games despite failing to surpass 200 yards in two of those games. Despite how dominating the NO defense looked last week, I am comfortable enough with the matchup that they will give Ward opportunities to score. While I don't anticipate a top-12 finish, he has a higher floor than some backup QBs, making him an option.
